If You Could Only Hear the Guns

You Wouldn't Hesitate a Minute to Buy a Liberty Bond

You can't hear the guns, but they are belching flame and death every minute in France—belching it at our soldier boys. They can't shoot back at the Hun unless you help with money.

Every bond you buy backs up an American soldier who is fighting for YOU.

If the Huns win, you'll have to ask them whether or not you can spend your own money for what you want.
